A Ferocious Lion has eaten a boy called Jim after he escaped from his nurse at the zoo and is now dead.

Little Jim was with his nurse at the zoo but slipped away and unfortunately a lion has eaten him .If you want to support the family please dial 0800 7845 ,1. Further investigation will be led by the police into this dramatic experience. . Please stay home until the lion is sent back to its original hometown and make sure your children are monitored 24/7. The mother of the boy who died will have a dialogue of what happened down the page.

Jim's mother, 39

Our son Jim has been described as a naughty boy and would not listen to his nurses and matron. I am not surprised as to what has happened to Jim , he never listened to what he was told.

More details about the investigation will be given in the next few days but for now stay safe and keep your children in view at all times
