

Back in November, we took part in bullying week. The children participated in lots of activities throughout the week which culminated in them wearing odd socks to mark the occasion. We decided to team this up with Children in Need and wore both odd socks and spots!

